

WAR ULTIMATUM SENT BY AUSTRIA TO MONTENEGRO

Fleet Ready for Action if King
Nicholas Does Not Accede to Scutari Demand.

VIENNA, March 22.—The Austro-Hungarian Government addressed a strong ultimatum to Montenegro, which was in the nature of an ultimatum. The note reiterated even more sharply than before the demands made by the Austrian Minister at Cetinje on March 20, which were as follows:

First—The free exit from the fortress of Scutari of all non-combatants.

Second—Explanation of the death of a Catholic priest named Palle, who is said to have been slaughtered because he opposed the violent conversions of prisoners.

Third—Violent conversations to cease instantly.

Fourth—Full satisfaction to be given for the violence of the Montenegrins and Serbians at Ban Giovanni di Medun on the Adriatic coast against the crew of the Austrian merchant vessel Skodra.

With the view of hastening the solution of the question of Albania the Austro-Hungarian Government has agreed that the town of Jakovo shall be ceded to Serbia on condition that the northern frontier of Albania be delimited in conformity with Austria's wishes.

LONDON, March 22.—The new crisis in the Balkans has led to the instant recall from their Eastern vacations of the Ambassadors in London of the European powers. They met in conference this afternoon to discuss the situation.

BERLIN, March 22.—Armed operations against Montenegro may soon be begun by the Austro-Hungarian squadron now cruising off the Montenegrin and Albanian coasts, according to information which reached the German Foreign Office today.

The officials of the German Foreign Office state that Austria will send one further note to Montenegro so as to exhaust the possibilities of diplomacy before the character of the activity of the warships changes from a demonstration into offensive action.

It is understood here that Russia has counselled the Montenegrins to yield.

ADRIANOPLE, March 22.—J. A. M. Shukri Pasha, the commander of this fortress, and his troops are determined to continue the defense they have now carried on for five months and all reports as to efforts made by them to surrender may be dismissed as pure inventions.

Only starvation can force the capitulation of the beleaguered garrison. Food is still regularly distributed among the population by the military authorities and there are considerable supplies.

Perfect order prevails in the city and the report emanating from Sofia that Shukri Pasha had ordered the Greek and Armenian bishops here to be hanged because they had drawn attention to the alleged mistreatment of the population is groundless. It has aroused much indignation here, the two prelates themselves being among the most energetic of those protesting against the cruelty. They extol the courtesy of the Commander-in-chief, praising his solicitude for the civil as well as for the military population of the city.

The Bulgarian assignments making no progress and their occasional assaults have been futile. The intermittent bombardment has not done any harm to the defending forces which remain intact. Discard is said to prevail among the allied armies and the Servians brought up to assist the Bulgarians in the siege remain idle in their lines, not participating in any of the active operations.

President's Daughters Will Entertain On Tennis Courts of the White House

Wilson Girls, Devotees of the Game, Plan to Invite Friends From Jersey.

While father is busy with the affairs of this big country of theirs—and ours—Eleanor, Jessie and Margaret Wilson are busy superintending the levelling and trimming of the White House tennis courts.

It will be remembered how violently a certain Colonel used the splendid game when he was President. The Colonel would summon Cabinet ministers and foreign ambassadors and work off fat and overplus of nerves by banging an innocent little air-stuffed ball against the clay or into the net. For many a summer week he had his Assistant Secretary of State chasing the balls he would slam with his accustomed ferocity. But in this Administration there will be a real tennis set in the backyard of the White House.

The Wilson girls are all enthusiastic tennis players. They love the sport and instead of tearing up the clay courts with heavy heels or making the welkin shriek with cries of triumph and victorious delight, the White House tennis set will now consist of pretty girls in duck dresses and blouses, who play the game gracefully, scientifically, and pause between sets for iced tea served by an old-fashioned dandy servant.

The Wilson girls expect to have their old friends of New Jersey and Virginia "come over" for many a game during the spring and the early days of summer.

After the Colonel retired from public life and was succeeded by a former old friend, the former old friend found that a tennis court was not for one of his ponderosity and forsook the White House backyard for the golf course. They have a force of men working on them now, and as soon as the clay coating is packed down good and hard and the sand is sifted over them the White House tennis season for 1919 will be started.

CHINESE ASSASSIN SHOT WRONG OFFICIAL, BUT CONSOLES VICTIM

Sends Letter to Dying Gen.
Sung Explaining and Wishing Him Perpetual Peace.

SHANGHAI, China, March 22.—Gen. Sung, a former Chinese Minister of Education, died today from the effects of a wound he received on March 20, when an attempt was made to assassinate him at the railroad station.

Before his death Gen. Sung received a letter telling him that he had been shot by mistake instead of Gen. Huang-Sing, the Commander-in-Chief of Southern Fukien, who also was on the station at the time.

The writer hoped that Gen. Sung would "have perpetual rest."

President Unable to See Princeton

Gathering for Easter.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Wilson had such a busy program ahead of him today that he had to forego the half holiday to which he has been accustomed on Saturdays.

The President decided not to attend the Princeton-Georgetown baseball game in the afternoon, although he was to receive the members of the Princeton team Monday.

For the Easter holidays there was a gathering of Wilson relatives at the White House. Prof. Stockton Axson of Princeton University, a brother of Mrs. Wilson, and Fritz William McManis Woodrow, a Princeton student and cousin of the President, were among them.

DROWNED MAN'S BODY FOUND
Names "Brunn" and "Brunne" in Pocketbook Left on Dock.

The body of a middle-aged man was found today floating in the East River at the foot of Adams street, Brooklyn. It had apparently been in the water but a short time. A pocketbook was found on the bulkhead of the dock in which were written the words, "E. Brunn, 15 and E. J. Brunn, 15 South Elliott place."

A family named Miller lives at the South Elliott place house, and it was said that no Brunn or Brunn had been known there in the eleven years they have occupied the house.

The man had sandy gray hair, was short of stature and wore a gray sack suit, a white shirt and black shoes with cloth tops.

MADE SUICIDE PACT WITH WIFE; SHE DIED; NOW HE BLAMES HER

But Coroner Commits Thompson to the Tombs After Hearing His Story.

The death in J. Hood Wright Hospital on March 17 from gas poisoning of Mrs. Laura Thompson has been made the subject of an inquest which will be held on April 1 by Coroner Feinberg. Harry L. Thompson, the woman's husband, admits that she entered with him into a suicide pact and he was committed to the Tombs today by the Coroner on a technical charge of homicide.

Thompson, a man about forty-five years old, and his wife, some five years younger, rented a suite of three rooms from Mrs. Mary A. Gates at No. 63 West One Hundred and Eighth street on Feb. 28. On the morning of March 6 they were found unconscious in one of the rooms. Gas was pouring from a jet. The couple were taken to J. Hood Wright Hospital, where the woman died.

In a statement made to Assistant District Attorney Murphy today Thompson places the blame for the actual turning on of the gas on his dead wife.

"I was unable to get work. Our money was gone, we had no food and the rent was due next day. Because we travelled from place to place we had no friends. We were all alone in the world and decided to die."

"On the night of March 5 my wife opened the doors between all the rooms and turned on every gas jet in the place. The gas did not appear to have any great effect. I was too weak to have to try a smaller space. My wife closed all the doors leading to the dining room. I was weak and faint and sat in a chair. She climbed on the table and unscrewed the burner. The gas poured out in heavy volume and she fell to the floor. I was too weak to go to her and when I woke up I was in the hospital."

"At the time we agreed to die I did not realize the enormity of the proposition—the criminality of it. I no longer feel that I have the right to dispose of my own life."

NEW EASTER CLOTHES STOLEN FROM FLATS OF TWO BRONX MEN

Three Apartments Literally Cleaned Out While the Occupants Were Away.

Detectives of the Alexander avenue police station, in the Bronx, today secured what they believe is a good description of two young men who, yesterday afternoon, literally cleaned out three flats while their occupants were out shopping for Easter. The burglars first went into the flat of Robert Long at No. 241 East One Hundred and Forty-fifth street. They pulled drawers out from under and scattered their contents over the floors. They slit up all the mattresses and pillow-cases looking for secret money. They got $25 in cash, took jewelry, rifled little Willie's banks, one of $5 and the other of $2.50, and also took Mr. Long's new Easter suit, which he had not yet worn outside of the tailor shop.

Then they went to the flat of Eugene Italy, a fireman of Engine Company No. 50. They got $45 in cash, a gold watch and chain and little May Daly's gold locket and chain. They tried on the fireman's uniform and stepped on the face of little May's doll.

In the flat of Thomas Fitzgerald they took a diamond lavalliere belonging to Miss Vonnice Fitzgerald, other jewelry and trinkets and clothing, including Fitzgerald's new Easter suit. They also looked at a strong-box containing $54 belonging to young Thomas Jr., who is treasurer for a boys' club. Under the Fitzgerald flat Policeman Page of the Alexander avenue station was sleeping on his day off. He was awakened by bumps on the floor above, but paid no attention.

Detectives O'Neill and Doyle think they found a clue today in the description given by Mrs. King, living in the flat above those of Daly and Fitzgerald. She said she saw two boys, evidently eighteen years old, whispering on the floor where the looted flats are located. She says she thought they were waiting for one of the boys of the family. Both wore blue suits and light caps. One had dark and the other light hair. The police believe the boys knew the flats well.

BRONX CHILD BITTEN
BY A FEROCIOUS DOG.

Policeman Lands Bullet in Animal's Heart After Chase in Which Women and Children Scatter.

A large black and white dog savagely attacked six-year-old Anna Geer as the child was sitting on the steps of her home at No. 117 St. Ann's avenue, the Bronx, this afternoon.

The dog bit the child down and tore a bit out of her lower lip while several other children and women scattered and ran shouting for help. The dog dashed down St. Ann's avenue just as Patrolman Haggerty, who had heard the cries, came running up. Foam was flying from its mouth and it snapped savagely at several people as it raced along.

Haggerty chased it as far as One Hundred and Thirty-second street with his revolver ready for action. The animal ran into Cypress avenue, up which it turned. The patrolman stuck to the chase and overhauled the dog at One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, where he shot and killed it.

Meantime Anna's mother had picked the child up in her arms and hurried over to the Lincoln Hospital. The doctors cauterized the wound and the girl was taken later to the Pasteur Institute.

COMES FROM LONDON
LOOKING FOR HUSBAND.

Rogass Disappeared a Year Ago and Wife Has Already Travelled Over Europe.

Mrs. Betty Rogass has asked the police to search for her husband, Jose, an oil company promoter, who has been missing since February, 1912. Mrs. Rogass said her husband formerly had offices at No. 38 Penchurch street, London.

The day before he vanished he had his last seen to his office, explaining that he thought he might be ordered to go to Austria to obtain an option on some oil fields.

Since her husband disappeared Mrs. Rogass has travelled all over Europe searching for him. In London some weeks ago she heard of a man named Jose Rogass, so she came to this country. She is stopping with friends at No. 38 Mount Vernon avenue, West Philadelphia. Mrs. Rogass says she has almost exhausted her money and earnestly hopes her husband may learn of her long hunt for him and return home.

WIFE GIVEN ALIMONY SO
DAUGHTER CAN ENTERTAIN.

Nineteen-Year-Old Charlotte Lawrence Must Have Some Place to Receive Callers, Court Decides.

To enable Mrs. Catherine Lawrence to keep up an apartment so that her nineteen-year-old daughter, Charlotte, may entertain her friends at home, Justice Pitney today awarded Mrs. Lawrence $20 a week alimony pending a separation suit she has brought against Arthur J. Lawrence, an automobile agent. Mrs. Lawrence claims Lizzie O'Donnell has lured her husband from the serenity of his own friends.

Since Feb. 19, 1913, Lawrence has remained away from his wife's home and has contributed nothing to her support or to their daughter's maintenance, she alleges. He took with him their other child, a son.

Lawrence denies any fondness for "Lizzie's" company. He declares Mrs. Lawrence ordered him from their home.

SUES WIFE WHO RAGED WHEN DENIED SEALSKIN COAT FOR CHRISTMAS

Brother-in-Law's Gift to Her Sister Cause of Sidney
Kamma's Troubles.

It all began Christmas Day, 1910, when Sidney Kamma's sister let out a gladsome titter at the gift of a genuine sealskin coat. The tiny regal gift was from her husband, the victim of an unparalleled fit of generosity. From that day to this Kamma, who toots and pounds and scrapes a living out of musical instruments, says his home life has not been worth living. In fact, Kamma swears, ructions have been so frequent in his household since he did not give a sealskin coat to his wife on Christmas, 1910, that today he asked the Supreme Court to award him a separation from Mrs. Wilhelmina M. Kamma, who still occupies the Kamma home at No. 110 Forest avenue, the Bronx.

The Kammes were married Sept. 14, 1908, in this city, and all went well until that fateful Christmas Day. It was heard, Mr. Oakley wept like a banana when he saw the sealskin coat. The ship news irregularly stood by awestricken at the spectacle of Mr. Oakley's heaving shoulders and spattering tears. When his first paroxysm of grief had subsided Mr. Oakley drew from his pocket what was at first thought to be a tear-bottle, but which proved to be full already. The weighty male Niobe took a long pull at it and then offered explanations.

"It's this way," he said. "All my life I've been missing things. If I'd been a girl they'd have called me the Maid of the Missing. If I'd been a sausage the Missing Link would have been my name. I'm getting tired of it—I am," and Mr. Oakley again resorted to his tear-bottle.

"Out in Chicago," he said, wearily, his voice still shaken by sobs, "I just missed being married. I've been told since that maybe this was just as well. That may be so. Anyhow, I missed the train that was to have conveyed me on my way to put the question. My rival caught it and got the girl. But her father failed in business the next day," he added, brightening up.

The sympathetic marine literateurs accompanied Mr. Oakley to the corner. He was going uptown. When they parted from him his eyes were still red-rimmed from weeping. He did not try to catch a car that was passing. Instead, he directed his steps to one that was two cars behind it—and he missed that.

Young Folks to Play Comedy.
The annual entertainment and reception of the young ladies and young men of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, East Ninetieth street, will take place on Easter Tuesday evening in Palm Garden, Fifty-eighth street and Lexington avenue. The young people will present the comedy "My Friend From India." Rev. James J. Talbot is in charge of the affair.

WOMAN ACCUSES LAWYER OF FRAUD IN LAND DEAL.

Mrs. Bisch of West End Avenue
Sues Louis H. Hurst for $6,900.

Louis H. Hurst, an attorney of No. 44 Court street, Brooklyn, is accused of fraud in a mortgage transaction by Mrs. Dora L. Bisch, in an action brought today in the Supreme Court to recover $6,900. Mrs. Bisch resides at No. 78 West End avenue with her son, Dr. Louis E. Bisch.

Mrs. Bisch alleges that in October, 1908, she engaged the attorney to purchase a piece of property for her in Pulaski street, Brooklyn. The purchase price was to be $20,000, and of this, she swears, she was permitted to pay $5,000 by assigning a mortgage, which she held against David Steff for that amount.

After assigning this mortgage Mrs. Bisch continues, Mr. Hurst, "without her knowledge or consent, and with intent to practise fraud and deceit upon her, wilfully and fraudulently inserted" in the assignment a provision binding her to guarantee the principal and interest.

Mrs. Bisch declares that Mr. Hurst turned the mortgage over to David Steff, Annie Bogal and Ignatz Weisberger. She says she was unaware that a binding clause existed until a suit was started in the Kings County Court to foreclose the Steff mortgage and she was made a defendant.

Mrs. Bisch says that even then she did not suspect any connection with the transaction and engaged him to defend her. She asserts he "permitted and allowed judgment of foreclosure to be given against her, adjudging that she pay any deficiency arising from the sale of the mortgaged premises, pursuant to the guaranty fraudulently inserted by him in the assignment of the mortgage."

Mr. Hurst enters a vigorous denial of Mrs. Bisch's accusations.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCARETS."

Dime a box—Gently cleans your liver and constipated bowels
while you sleep

Take a Cascaret to-night and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out, are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.
